PLAN ON FOOT TO UNITE ALL TREATIES IN ONE DOCUMENT

May Mean Delay of Preliminary Peace Until About First of May, it is Announced

ORLANDO IS RESPONSIBLE

Step Would Facilitate Treaty Work, is Belief Expressed in Paris

German, Bulgarian, Turk and Austro-Hungarian Terms May be Linked

(By Associated Press)

Paris, March 26.—It became known last night that a serious effort was being made in the highest quarters to join together all the peace treaties with Germany, Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria, thus making one comprehensive treaty in which Germany would be linked with the other central powers as their responsible head.

While such a step would cause some delay, yet the American and British leaders here feel that it would save time in the end in completing the work on all the peace treaties. The inclusion of Austria in a comprehensive treaty would be particularly acceptable to Italy which has resisted the conclusion of terms with Germany in a document which failed to deal with Italy's interest in Austria.

The movement for a single treaty probably grows out of Premier Orlando's strong opposition to such omission in the first treaty clauses dealing with Italy's interests.

Should the plan be adopted it is expected four treaties could be linked together and completed by May 1st.

ARMISTICE FIRST TREATY

Ex-Ambassador to U. S. Says World to Regard Armistice as Preliminary Treaty Pact

(By Associated Press)

Paris, March 26.—Germany is determined to stick close to the Wilson program in making peace with the allies, Count Von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to the United States, declared in an interview given the Berlin correspondent of the Temps.

"The armistice of November 11th," Count Von Bernstorff said, "was signed when all powers interested had accepted the program of peace proposed by President Wilson. Germany is determined to keep to this agreement which history will regard in a way as the conclusion of a preliminary peace. She herself is ready to submit to the conditions arising from it and she expects all the interested powers to do the same."

"If these essential conditions of the Wilson program should be violated or neglected and especially if conditions are imposed which go beyond the program the German delegates would unfortunately find themselves in a position of nonpossumus."

SECRETARY CROWELL

Benedict Crowell

According to a recent announcement made by Acting Secretary Crowell, the War Department will pay all obligations in spite of the failure in Congress of the big deficiency appropriation bill, carrying funds to meet claims amounting to millions, according to a report from Washington. Payment of every obligation, Mr. Crowell said, would involve the "shifting" of the department's account to a great degree. "We may all have to go to jail," he added, "but we will pay every obligation of the department when due."

Chiropractor Declares Delehanty Wanted $500 for Self and $2000 for Bribing Sen. Agnew

Delehanty Alleged to Have Said He was Just "Kidding" Wright

(By Associated Press)

Columbus, O., March 26.—Senator Agnew, chairman of the Cuyahoga county delegation in the General Assembly, told the legislative bribery probe committee today the story of the alleged attempt to bribe Senator Howell Wright, of Cleveland, in connection with the chiropractors non-medical practice bill.

Agnew said on February 25th, the day the bill was to come up for a vote in the senate, Wright had said to him: "I want you to stay close to me this afternoon for I have just been approached and told I might have $2,000 if I wouldn't speak against this bill."

"I asked Wright who had approached him and he said it was a member of our own delegation—Mr. Delehanty. 'Being chairman of the delegation I felt it my duty to investigate. I discussed the matter with former Lieutenant Governor Greenlund, of Cleveland, and with minority leader Hopple of the House."

"Hopple and I called Mr. Delehanty and asked him what he had to say about it. 'I was only kidding Wright. I was just joking,' he said."

"We then sent for Dr. Skeeles, the lobbyist for the chiropractors, and told him what we had heard and that we were anxious to clean the matter up. Skeeles said he had been approached by Delehanty who demanded $500 for himself to handle the bill in the House and that for $2,000 he could get Senator Wright's opposition withdrawn in the Senate."

"Skeeles said he asked Delehanty for further time and made further appointment with him. Skeeles said he then went to the Franklin county prosecutor but the prosecutor told him he was too busy to concern himself with rumors. The prosecutor recommended a detective."

W. B. Gongwer, of Cleveland, democratic leader, testifying before the committee corroborated much of Senator Agnew's testimony.

At the Columbus meeting when Skeeles and Delehanty first were confronted by members of the Cleveland delegation and himself and after Skeeles had told his story involving Delehanty and Delehanty had denied it, Gongwer said he told Delehanty: "I think you are a liar and a grafter." He said Delehanty made no answer.

NOTABLE WORK OF LOCAL CHAPTER OF RED CROSS

Fifty Leading Workers Banquet and Celebrate End of Long Siege of Hard Work.

Record of Achievement Is Shown in Report Made by Secretary — Certificates And Badges Are Awarded.

Red Cross Day at the Y. M. C. A. brought together half a hundred or more of the foremost Red Cross workers for an hour of banqueting together and a most enjoyable social wind up to the strenuous work of the past two years. It was also an occasion punctuated with special interest owing to the giving of the complete report of the work accomplished in the local chapter and the presentation of certificates and badges to those who had earned the right to this recognition by the Lake Division headquarters.

Feasting, toasting the splendid work of the Red Cross and the share in its laurels Fayette County may rightly share the general "get together" features combined to make "Red Cross Day" a memorable event.

Women who had been too busy sewing, knitting, making bandages and other necessary Red Cross work to do, much visiting greatly enjoyed the relaxation and the big picnic spread. The long tables bore little resemblance to conservation days, but were loaded down with everything that gastronomic skill could prepare. Seated at the head of the table were Mr. T. H. Craig, Fayette County Red Cross Chairman, Mrs. Eva J. Penn, Chairman of the work shop and Mrs. Chas. W. Lewis, Chairman of the knitting department.

When every one had been served and reserved until appetites were faded Chairman Craig rose to make a most appreciative and felicitous little toast to the women who represented the most indefatigable workers of the local chapter.

He spoke of the letters he had received from the Lake Division—letters warm with praise expressed in the highest terms concerning the work done by the Fayette County Red Cross. It was phenomenal work; work which meant the sacrifice of time and comfort, the development of a broader outlook and the awakening of a humanity interest as never before.

Mr. Henry Brownell was called upon and made a eulogistic little speech, earnest in compliment to the Red Cross workers and spiced with humor that met instant response. He said that he had witnessed no greater proof of the success of co-operative effort than in the dinner just served.

Mr. Brownell brought out especially the difficulty of keeping faith and love and the inspiration necessary to the long and wearisome hours of work so far away from those for whom it was done.

Rev. D. H. Rejy made a beautiful little talk laudatory of the work done by the Red Cross in his own country of Armenia and throughout the world and its meaning to humanity as an Angel of Mercy.

Miss Mary Robinson, Chairman, Home Service Department made a most interesting talk along the line of her work, what it has been and is still doing for soldiers and their families.

Chairman Craig presented the certificates of Service, the public recognition of the Lake Division to Red Cross workers, to twenty-three members of the local chapter who had given 800 hours of work since 1917. To Mrs. Eva J. Penn, Chairman Red Cross work shop, and Mrs. C. W. Lewis, Chairman of the knitting department, he presented with these certificates the service badges as the local chapter's gift, with eloquent words of appreciation of their faithful service. Both women made graceful response.

Miss Edith Gardner on behalf of the local chapter presented to chairman Craig a special Service Badge, her few heartsome words of honor and tribute finding warm response from every one present.

Service Certificates were presented to the following women.

Mrs. George Hitchcock, Mrs. Nancy

Roberts, Mrs. Elizabeth Myers, Mrs. Scott Hopkins, Miss Mary Robinson, Miss Edith Gardner, Mrs. J. W. Haigler, Miss Agnes Kerrigan, Mrs. Taylor Mantel, Mrs. Emma Brown Morris, Mrs. H. Ellis Daugherty, Mrs. Clark Rowe, Mrs. Henry Pearce, Mrs. Orme Brown, Mrs. C. E. Mark, Mrs. Calvin Holmes, Mrs. Estella K. Blackmer, Mrs. Anna Bush Coffman, Mrs. Lucy Ginn, Miss Dell Lanum, Mrs. Frank C. Reed, Mrs. Sarah E. Patton, Mrs. Carrie Deere, Mrs. Alfred H. Creamer.

Scores of letters have been written to boys over seas at the request of their friends here, who could not get word from them or to them.

Employment has been found for discharged soldiers, and sick and disabled ones have been helped and encouraged.

The Red Cross has been loyally supported by the citizens of Fayette County. Many individuals, lodges and societies have contributed time, money and personal energy.

The war chest committee has been most generous in appropriating funds to finance the chapter.

And the women who have wrought with their hands, and have made possible the splendid achievements of this chapter have been loyal, enthusiastic and capable.

Respectfully Submitted,

EDITH H. GARDNER,

Secretary.

How An Electric Company Is Enabled To Serve

The ability of an electric company to invest sufficient amounts of capital from year to year in extensions and improvements necessary to the maintenance of a high service standard is of direct concern to the consumer of electricity and the citizen who wants to see his city go forward.

A utility company cannot possibly earn enough to make these expenditures out of surplus. The money spent for construction is part of the investment expenditures and to the end that there may be provided sufficient new capital for such expenditures the company's earnings must provide a fair return on the actual investment in property already in service.

Many people seem to feel that "investment" is apt to include "watered items" or "inflated values." We wish to point out that in computing a "fair return" the rate of earning is not figured on the basis of "capitalization;" but on the ACTUAL FAIR VALUE of the PROPERTY devoted to Electric Service.

The demand for more and more capital investment in public utility properties is constant. It is one of the knotty problems of the industry. It is not a problem that can be ignored during periods of reduced earnings.

In spite of the fact that our earnings have been greatly reduced under an electric rate which was low in 1916 even before war conditions increased the cost of doing business almost 100 percent, we have spent about $42,700.00 for necessary electric extensions and improvements. This illustrates in local terms how an electric property constantly demands capital investments whether earnings justify them or not.

We have done our part under discouraging conditions in maintaining the property so that it can render good service,—the only kind of service that benefits the city.

While it is true that present earnings are too low to enable us to face the future indefinitely without relief, we have not hesitated to back our faith in the fairness of the people of Washington Court House with these heavy expenditures during the period of seeking an emergency rate readjustment.

We do not ask a permanent or extended increase in electric rates. We believe, however, we are entitled to increased rates during the period of continued high prices of labor and material.

In our next statement we will outline the factors that govern the cost of providing good Electric Service.

M. H. Gross, Manager.

WOMEN ORGANIZE FOR Y. W. DRIVES BEGIN TOMORROW

Teams are Chosen for Membership Campaign Work and Preliminary Work Concluded

On Tuesday evening many young women and girls of the city met in the Red Cross rooms of the Y. M. C. A. to perfect the organization for the "Y-W" membership drives which are to begin on Thursday morning and continue through Thursday and Friday of this week.

Campaign teams were named and Captains chosen, the territory to be canvassed apportioned, all preliminary formalities disposed of and everything made ready for the actual drive the result of which is not only to determine whether this city and county is to have a Young Woman's Christian Association organization but whether even the Y. M. C. A. is to be retained and the splendid plant with all its opportunities for social and physical betterment is to be accepted by the people of the city and county for their own use, comfort, convenience and pleasure.

The object of these campaigns which begin tomorrow morning are, or should be, well known to the people of the city and county.

It has been pointed out definitely, heretofore, that the Y. M. C. A. organization has determined to enlarge its field of opportunity by giving to the young women of the city and county the same opportunity for benefit that has heretofore been exclusively reserved for the young men.

Many other cities are following the same plan and the young women are taking advantage of the opportunity afforded by the offer. The active and sustaining membership fees are merely nominal in comparison to the benefits offered.

Washington and Fayette county has "Y" facilities second to none. Even many of the plants in the larger cities of the state offer no better advantages than our own.

This is the crucial time for the "Y." The campaign which begins tomorrow morning is in no sense a begging campaign. It is an offer of much more than full value for the membership fee. The opportunity, to the young women and girls is exceptional. There is every indication that the teams will meet with prompt success in soliciting memberships.

Mansfield and Wooster both put in bids by telegraph today for units of the One Hundred and Forty-sixth Infantry, in the hope that the war department would permit the soldiers to parade in those cities on the way to Camp Sherman.

PLAN A ROUSING RECEPTION FOR 166TH REGIMENT

Meeting Of All Former Members In This Community To Be Held At Memorial Hall Thursday Night to Organize.

Plans Set Forth in Letter to Captain W. L. Vincent.

As a result of an appeal to organize in order to give the Old Fourth (now the 166th Regiment) a reception royal upon its return to Ohio, all old members of the 14th—4th—166th regiment are urged to attend a meeting at Memorial Hall, Thursday evening at 7:30 for the purpose of taking steps for the welcome to be accorded the "Kaiser Chasers" upon their return.

Captain W. L. Vincent, of this city, former officer in the organization, has received the following letter relative to the reception:

Dear Comrade:
The Fourteenth-Fourth-166th Regiment Rainbow Division is coming HOME at an early date. It is up to you to aid us in giving this splendid fighting organization a fitting welcome. We are depending on you to notify every old member of the 4th or 14th Reg. in your vicinity of this mammoth affair. The boys deserve everything we can do to show our appreciation of what they have done for us, and the record they have made for our old Regiment. Boost the game by bringing every ex-member to parade with them on the day of their arrival in Columbus. DON'T BE A SLACKER! This is a chance of a lifetime and will be a great reunion for the old bunch.

Plans are now on foot to give these splendid Ohio fighting men the welcome home they deserve. Every one who has a relative or loved one who has ever served with the 14th O. N. G., the 4th O. V. I., the 4th O. N. G., or in the 166th, is called upon to get ready to "go over the top" on this Welcome.

Ohio has never fallen down on a good job yet! Shall we on THIS ONE?

Stop this!

Don't wait. Delay often leads to pneumonia. Results are guaranteed. At your druggists.

Beginning with the birth of the old 14th O. N. G., 1877, nearly every town in Ohio has at one time or another been interested in and connected with one of these organizations.

The 166th Reg. Rainbow Division is composed of National Guardsmen from nearly every county in the Buckeye State, therefore every town should be in on this Welcome.

Business stops in Columbus on the day the Boys get HOME to parade. This will be a splendid, strictly military affair, participated in by every soldier or sailor who has ever served under the Stars and Stripes in any war.

THE RECORD

4th Infantry 1898-1917, U. S. —A Porto Rico and Mexico.
166th Infantry 1917-1919, France and Germany.

Let ALL OHIO turn out when these "Kaiser chasers" come Home!

If you have not already organized, appoint a strong hustling committee to get busy and report at once. Its member it means work and it is up to you. Official badges are being made for all who register and participate in the parade.

Watch your favorite home paper for further details.

INVESTIGATION INTO AFRICAN CAMPAIGN URGED

Portugese Charged with Being Responsible For Prolongation of South African War.

Elephant Hunting and Yachting Appealed More Than Fighting is Charge

London, February 26.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—According to information received here from Capetown a demand has sprung up there, for a searching investigation into the manner in which the British campaign was conducted in East and Central Africa after General Smuts had relinquished command to come to England. When he left it was believed that the campaign had been virtually concluded.

Owen Letcher, formerly an officer in the east African expeditionary force, reviews the campaign in a series of articles in the Cape Times and strongly advocates a commission of inquiry. Belief prevails in Capetown, it is said, that the sport of yachting at Dares-Salaam and elephant hunting in the interior were largely responsible for the prolongation of the fighting.

The campaign is said to have exceeded the cost of the Boer war, amounting to about $1,500,000,000. To the casualties, which were heavy in killed and wounded, must be added many men who will suffer from fever for the rest of their lives.

The work of the Portuguese colonial forces is criticised, also the huge headquarters staffs maintained by the British hundreds of miles from the scenes of the actual fighting.

Discussing the Portuguese, Letcher writes: "In common justice to our forces it must be set on record that not only did the Portuguese colonial army put up poor resistance against the marauding Germans, but that their presence was a very substantial advantage to Von Lettow. (German commander) inasmuch as they frequently embarrassed our movements and surrendered to the enemy guns, rifles, machine guns and supplies of which the Germans were badly in need.

"The engagement at Nhamacurra, about 30 miles from Beaufort, which was fought in the beginning of July, 1918, was a particularly disastrous event for us, since after the Portuguese had lost two guns, with a lot of other equipment, and the native troops despite the efforts of their officers had broken in disorder the enemy attacked Major Gore Browne's King African Rifles detachment and largely through the employment of the two captured guns, inflicted a severe defeat on us."

HARTMAN THEATER COLUMBUS, OHIO

Florens Ziegfeld, Jr., will offer at the Hartman Theater, Columbus, O., Sunday evening, March 30, the 1918 version of the celebrated "Ziegfeld Follies," the engagement is for one week only, and marks the twelfth consecutive production in a series of musical revues originated in America by Mr. Ziegfeld in 1907. Remold Wolf and Gene Buck are responsible for the lines and lyrics of the new edition. The score is by Louis Hirsch and Dave Stamper, Irving Berlin has supplied the words and music for two elaborate numbers while Victor Jacoby composed and dedicated a waltz to the "Follies." The incoming revue is to be presented in two acts which have been staged by Ned Wayburn, under the personal supervision of Mr. Ziegfeld. Joseph Urban, noted art decorator, designed and painted the numerous scenes. One of the many features of the entertainment will be an original picture created and presented by Ben All Haggen, the artist.

The cast, which is made up of more than 150 entertainers is more typical of the "Follies" than any previous year's offering. Among the many principals employed in the presentation of the popular show are Will Rogers, Marilyn Miller, Eddie Cantor, W. C. Fields, Ann Pennington, Frank Carter, Allyn King, Mildred Richardson, Savoy & Brennan, Billie Ritchie, the Fairbanks Twins, Dorothy Miller, Lillian McKenzie, Edith Hawes, Gladys Colby, Florence Kern, Nan Larned, Gus Minton and many others.

In selecting the beauties for the new "Follies" Mr. Ziegfeld required every applicant to appear in his presence before contracting with them, free of make-up and in this way succeeded in collecting an army of real and not made to order beauties. Matinee Wednesday and Saturday.

The change will be identical with that of last year, and lasts until next fall, giving one hour more of daylight.

PUPILS CONTROL RUSSIAN SCHOOLS

London, February 27.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Pupils instead of teachers control the schools of Russia under the Bolshevik regime, according to two Englishmen, one of them an experienced schoolmaster, who have just returned from Russia.

Boys and girls are herded indiscriminately and there is no discipline, says the Englishmen. Pupils control the teachers. In a Kolma school a youth of 18 was appointed commissioner of the institution and was in charge of all teachers. On one occasion he closed the school for a week as a protest against the action of the master who had reprimanded a pupil.

Should a master prove unpopular, he is promptly ejected by his class. Often the master appears for class only to find his pupils engaged in a committee meeting which must not be disturbed.

FARM NOTES

How To Prevent Oats Smut. Where ever tried, the dry or spraying method of treating seed oats for smut prevention has become popular among careful farmers. It is easy, simple, cheap, and effective, and no difficulty is experienced in sowing the treated grain.

For fifty bushels of grain one pint of formaldehyde is mixed with one pint of water and applied with an ordinary quart hand sprayer as the grain is being shoveled over. One or two strokes of the handle gives about the right amount but this will depend somewhat upon the sprayer. It is not necessary to use up all the solution and there is some danger in putting on too much. The grain should be shoveled over only once in this treatment.

Since the formaldehyde vapor is very irritating, the work should be done in a well aired room. Spraying beneath the grain as it falls will prevent the escape of the vapor to some extent and insure a more thorough distribution throughout the grain.

After the grain has all been treated, it should be covered four or five hours, but no longer, with clean canvas or blankets. The sacks in which the grain is to be taken to the field should be sprayed inside and out and covered over in the pile. The seed box of the drill may also be sprayed with the same solution.—Prof. W. G. Stover, the Ohio State University.

Ten-Acre Corn Contest Rules for the Men's Ten-Acre Corn Contest conducted by the College of Agriculture are being sent to the county agents. This contest has been conducted for the past two years and the results have been very gratifying. Men have enrolled in the contest from more than 50 counties. Of the total number who finished the work during the two years, four men have qualified for the "100 Bushel Corn Club of Ohio" by producing 100 or more bushels per acre on the ten-acre plot, after being reduced to a uniform moisture content of 20 per cent.

The enrollment promises to be much larger this year than it was last year. Anyone interested in taking part in this contest can secure a copy of the rules and entry blank from the county agent or by writing to the Department of Farm Crops, Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

The Big Problem

A great many Americans are becoming alert to the dangers of Bolshevism. The action of Hungary in accepting the principles of the Russian Soviet government and announcing an intention to conduct its government in concert with the Lenin regime has served to arouse many people who have heretofore been inclined to minimize the dangers of Bolshevism.

As usual and American like, those people who are just realizing the dangers are insistent that immediate action be taken to crush the Bolsheviks.

Those people who are so ready to announce an opinion and a remedy and at the same time complain because the allied governments have not already done what they on the moment, have determined necessary, little realize the enormity of the problem.

People who have watched with genuine alarm, the growth and spread of Bolshevism have little confidence in the success of an attempt to crush out the evil by force alone.

In that strip of territory extending from the North Sea down through the heart of Europe to Asia Minor there are, roughly speaking, one hundred millions of hungry and unemployed human beings. Their present condition is terrible and the future is uncertain.

When hunger and unemployment exist, Bolshevism and all other forms of radicalism, anarchy and disorder will thrive.

The only effective method to deal with Bolshevism is to feed the hungry millions, find work for the idle hands, give hope to the discouraged and place the government in the hands of competent dependable men.

The first step toward order is the final peace treaty. Nothing can be done until the different peoples know their status.

Taking Responsibility

One of the most discouraging features in connection with the restlessness among people is the disposition to avoid taking responsibility.

It is discouraging that so many workmen seem to take no interest whatever in the tasks they are assigned to do save to get through with the mere physical exertion in the shortest possible time, giving no thought to the responsibility which properly rests upon them to perform those tasks to the very best of their ability.

Many men employed do not even seem to care whether the tasks allotted to them are completed at all nor how inefficiently they are performed, just so they go through the motions and put in the time. Their minds seem to be wholly on the amount of pay they are to receive and the time when they will be "off" for the day or the week.

The old-time wholesome interest in the employer's work, the desire first of all to make good, to master the tasks assigned to them, to get the work done and done well seems to be too frequently lacking to indicate a healthful condition of affairs.

Time was, not long since, when young men, young women, boys and girls, starting in life were anxious to learn. They desired, and their parents, too, desired that they should master their work and become indispensable. Now the money and the "working hours" seem to be the only serious consideration.

The French Claim

Among the notables arriving with and a part of the famous Thirty-seventh Division was Lieutenant Colonel Ralph D. Cole, former congressman from the Findlay, Ohio, district, one of Ohio's ablest orators and very probably the next republican gubernatorial nominee.

Chief among his statements are those which reflect upon the alleged selfish attitude of France toward America.

According to Colonel Cole, there need be no further agitation by those who feel kindly toward France, to secure a cancellation by Congress of all or of a part of the tremendous loans made by this nation to the French people.

According to Colonel Cole France will be abundantly able to liquidate her debt when the time comes. He says the "thrifty" French are piling up a tremendous counter claim against America, even charging ground rents and damage for the trenches which the American troops constructed to repel the invading Huns.

Colonel Cole is not the first American of prominence to call attention to this tendency of the French people. Indeed his assertions in that respect are so abundantly supported by others as to relieve them from all suspicion of being made for political effect.

POEM FOR TODAY

have heard her in my heart,
have heard her singing there,
Felt her, dancing in her radiance
of the light,
I have listened in my dreaming
To her finger tips, all beaming,
As she tapped upon my window in
the night,
I have seen her comb her hair,
By the silver moon—Oh, where,
Is there ever such a sight?

She sent me word through sorrow
Of a brighter thing tomorrow:
And her messengers have found me
with the word,
One was at my sill this morning,
All his vibrant lay adorning
The sweetness of the world with
song of bird,
I can tell the message true,
I have knowledge of the dew,
And there's something fairy in me
that makes plain
All the rosy revelation
And the tinnitulation
Of the rain.

I have heard her in my heart,
Treading round, treading round,
With a kind of silver tinkle,
And a kind of elin sound—
Oh, her velvet feet are dancing
With the sunbeam twist them glancing;
And I know she's on the hillside,
And I know she's on the lee,
And I know she's crossed the mountain,
And her ship is on the sea!

GREAT FIELD IN SOUTH AMERICA FOR AMERICANS

Buenos Aires Editor Declares Great Britain Has Failed to Win Trade and That America Has Won It

London, February 26.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—

Jorge A. Mitre, editor of La Nacion, of Buenos Aires, gave Great Britain some advice concerning the extension of its trade in South America while speaking at a dinner of journalists and public men the other day. "It may be a matter of some concern to you," said Mr. Mitre, "that Great Britain, with the control of roads, railways and waterways in Argentina has an inferior position to other countries in market. Take for instance the case of agricultural machinery. In that line the United States are ahead of you because the American has made himself familiar with the needs and the fancies of the farmers.

"The South American people during the next few years will have money to spend. There is world-wide demand for food, ours is a food exporting country, and the prices are likely to be favorable to the producer. We shall want to buy not only locomotive, ploughs and other machinery, but motor cars, cutlery, plate, furniture, jewelry and finished leather goods. Who is going to supply us with these things?

"One of the best instruments you can use in shaping your South American policy during the remaking of the world is the British communities already established in the South American countries. In addition you must send out your travelers properly equipped. They must speak our language. All the efforts of British manufacturers to meet the requirements of South American markets will fail to be fruitful so long as as your commercial travelers are ignorant of Spanish.

"Then there is the fresh flow of capital to South America. I understand that for some time there will be a restriction on the export of British capital to foreign countries, in order that the rate of exchange may be improved. You must be careful not to pursue a mistaken policy in this respect. It is the exchange of goods that makes prosperity and not balances."

Public libraries are finding the tendency of the reading public now turning towards the lighter fiction, and books of peace and economic questions—that is with older readers—the children continue to read war stories with keen interest. University students are eager for books on "Bolshevism," and masculine readers incline to periodicals and topics of the day, especially pertaining to reconstruction and economics.

Many of the war books so greatly in demand for the last few years, now lie passive on the shelves. It may be that later on they will again be asked for, but just now the people have been so surfeited with war horrors and war's tragedies that they are yearning for more cheerful and away from war books.

Of course the exceptional books and war novels with strong interest remain in demand. Of these "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," translated from the Spanish of Ibanez is pronounced by many critics the finest war novel which has been published.

Friends of the Bryant family will be interested in learning that Harold Irish, son of Mrs. J. W. Irish of Lincoln, Ill., grandson of Mrs. Ione Bryant, and nephew of Mrs. Frank Mayer of this city, was on last Friday presented with a bronze medal by the U. S. The Lincoln Courier Herald says of the presentation—"The medal was given as an award for selling ten Liberty bonds of the Third Liberty Loan. No other boy was fortunate enough to secure a medal which was gained by much persevering work.

though several local Scouts worked for the award."

GUN TOTERS HAND OF LAW

Herbert Hamilton and J. T. Lore, claiming to be from Bridgeport, N. J., and each toting a vicious pistol with enough cartridges to kill a hundred men, were Tuesday evening taken in tow by B. & O. Detective Fred Lieurance, disarmed and placed in the county jail to await action of the Probate Court on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

The men, both white, were equipped with skeleton keys of various kinds, had goggles and automobile gloves as if their specialty might be something other than train riding.

With the two revolvers were found over one hundred cartridges. It is the belief of the authorities that the arrests were of more than ordinary importance and that the men are bad ones.

The family of Rev. Carpenter while here to attend the services will be guests at the Cherry Hotel, where friends may call to see them.

MEN SELL WIVES PAY THE BANDITS

New York, March 18.—Men are selling their wives in Fukien, China. Selling their homes, their lands, and even their children was not enough to meet the enormous assessments made by armed bandits who pretend to be a part of the Southern army of China.

In Yungchun county alone, according to a letter just received from Dr. W. B. Cole, Methodist missionary, the people had to raise $500,000 in three months. Scarcely a gold or silver ornament is to be found anywhere in these regions. Everything has to be turned into money.

is urging his native preachers to cultivate any available land with vegetables to help out with their salaries and as an example to the people.

Teaching people how to help themselves is part of the plan of the Centenary Committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church for rebuilding the world. To do this the Centenary expects to spend out of the fund of $105,000,000 now being raised, a certain amount of money in every country of the world for missionaries, native workers and equipment.

Dr. Cole goes on to say that Siensu county is meeting the same fate from the robbers. Plundering is rife everywhere. Six Methodist homes have been sacked and burned. Men, unable to pay the assessments, are beaten. Villages everywhere are being forced to subscribe to the cause of the bandits.

The Big Problem

A great many Americans are becoming alert to the dangers of Bolshevism. The action of Hungary in accepting the principles of the Russian Soviet government and announcing an intention to conduct its government in concert with the Lenine regime has served to arouse many people who have heretofore been inclined to minimize the dangers of Bolshevism.

As usual and American like, those people who are just realizing the dangers are insistent that immediate action be taken to crush the Bolsheviks.

Those people who are so ready to announce an opinion and a remedy and at the same time complain because the allied governments have not already done what they on the moment, have determined necessary, little realize the enormity of the problem.

People who have watched with genuine alarm, the growth and spread of Bolshevism have little confidence in the success of an attempt to crush out the evil by force alone.

In that strip of territory extending from the North Sea down through the heart of Europe to Asia Minor there are, roughly speaking, one hundred millions of hungry and unemployed human beings. Their present condition is terrible and the future is uncertain.

When hunger and unemployment exist, Bolshevism and all other forms of radicalism, anarchy and disorder will thrive.

The only effective method to deal with Bolshevism is to feed the hungry millions, find work for the idle hands, give hope to the discouraged and place the government in the hands of competent dependable men.

The first step toward order is the final peace treaty. Nothing can be done until the different peoples know their status.

Taking Responsibility

One of the most discouraging features in connection with the restlessness among people is the disposition to avoid taking responsibility.

It is discouraging that so many workmen seem to take no interest whatever in the tasks they are assigned to do save to get through with the mere physical exertion in the shortest possible time, giving no thought to the responsibility which properly rests upon them to perform those tasks to the very best of their ability.

Many men employed do not even seem to care whether the tasks allotted to them are completed at all nor how inefficiently they are performed, just so they go through the motions and put in the time. Their minds seem to be wholly on the amount of pay they are to receive and the time when they will be "off" for the day or the week.

The old-time wholesome interest in the employer's work, the desire first of all to make good, to master the tasks assigned to them, to get the work done and done well seems to be too frequently lacking to indicate a healthful condition of affairs.

Time was, not long since, when young men, young women, boys and girls, starting in life were anxious to learn. They desired, and their parents, too, desired that they should master their work and become indispensable. Now the money and the "working hours" seem to be the only serious consideration.

The French Claim

Among the notables arriving with and a part of the famous Thirty-seventh Division was Lieutenant Colonel Ralph D. Cole, former congressman from the Findlay, Ohio, district, one of Ohio's ablest orators and very probably the next republican gubernatorial nominee.

Chief among his statements are those which reflect upon the alleged selfish attitude of France toward America.

According to Colonel Cole, there need be no further agitation by those who feel kindly toward France, to secure a concellation by Congress of all or of a part of the tremendous loans made by this nation to the French people.

According to Colonel Cole France will be abundantly able to liquidate her debt when the time comes. He says the "thrifty" French are piling up a tremendous counter claim against America, even charging ground rents and damage for the trenches which the American troops constructed to repel the invading Huns.

Colonel Cole is not the first American of prominence to call attention to this tendency of the French people. Indeed his assertions in that respect are so abundantly supported by others as to relieve them from all suspicion of being made for political effect.

POEM FOR TODAY

have heard her in my heart,
have heard her singing there,
Felt her, dancing in her radiance
of the light.

I have listened in my dreaming
To her finger tips, all beaming,
As she tapped upon my window in the night.

I have seen her comb her hair,
By the silver moon—Oh, where,
Is there ever such a sight?

She sent me word through sorrow
Of a brighter thing tomorrow;
And her messengers have found me
with the word.

One was at my sill this morning,
All his vibrant lay adorning
The sweetness of the world with song of bird.

I can tell the message true,
I have knowledge of the dew,
And there's something fairy in me
that makes plain
All the rosy revelation
And the tintinnabulation
Of the rain.

I have heard her in my heart,
Treading round, treading round,
With a kind of silver tinkle,
And a kind of clin sound—
Oh, her velvet feet are dancing
With the sunbeam twist them glance-
ing;
And I know she's on the hillside,
And I know she's on the lee,
And I know she's crossed the mountain,
And her ship is on the sea!

GREAT FIELD IN SOUTH AMERICA FOR AMERICANS

Buenos Aires Editor Declares
Great Britain Has Failed to Win Trade and That America
Has Won It

London, February 26.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Jorge A. Mitre, editor of La Nacion, of Buenos Aires, gave Great Britain some advice concerning the extension of its trade in South America while speaking at a dinner of journalists and public men the other day.

"It may be a matter of some concern to you," said Mr. Mitre, "that Great Britain, with the control of roads, railways and waterways in Argentina has an inferior position to other countries in market. Take for instance the case of agricultural machinery. In that line the United States are ahead of you because the American has made himself familiar with the needs and the fancies of the farmers.

"The South American people during the next few years will have money to spend. There is world-wide demand for food, ours is a food exporting country, and the prices are likely to be favorable to the producer. We shall want to buy not only locomotive, ploughs and other machinery, but motor cars, cutlery, plate, furniture, jewelry and finished leather goods. Who is going to supply us with these things?

"One of the best instruments you can use in shaping your South American policy during the remaking of the world is the British communities already established in the South American countries. In addition you must send out your travelers properly equipped. They must speak our language. All the efforts of British manufacturers to meet the requirements of South American markets will fail to be fruitful so long as your commercial travelers are ignorant of Spanish.

"Then there is the fresh flow of capital to South America. I understand that for some time there will be a restriction on the export of British capital to foreign countries, in order that the rate of exchange may be improved. You must be careful not to pursue a mistaken policy in this respect. It is the exchange of goods that makes prosperity and not balances."

Miss Mina French entertained with an informal little party at her home on Washington Avenue Tuesday night.

The guests were confined to a half dozen intimate friends and taffy pulling was the delight of a gay social evening.

The Chaney home on the Hosler road near New Holland, was gaily enfeet Tuesday evening when the young daughter, Miss Doris delightfully entertained twenty of her young friends with a very pretty party.

Dancing and games were enjoyed throughout the evening.

A pink and green color scheme was artistically carried out in the decorations of the home and the dainty refreshments served.

Mrs. Parrett has been spending the winter in Columbus at the Hotel Seneca, where she and Senator Parrett have had an apartment while he has been attending Legislature.

Public libraries are finding the tendency of the reading public now turning towards the lighter fiction, and books of peace and economic questions—that is with older readers—the children continue to read war stories with keen interest. University students are eager for books on "Bolshevism," and masculine readers incline to periodicals and topics of the day, especially pertaining to reconstruction and economics.

Many of the war books so greatly in demand for the last few years, now lie passive on the shelves. It may be that later on they will again be asked for, but just now the people have been so surfeited with war horrors and war's tragedies that they are yearning for more cheerful and away from war books.

Of course the exceptional books and war novels with strong interest remain in demand. Of these "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," translated from the Spanish of Ibanez is pronounced by many critics the finest war novel which has been published.

Friends of the Bryant family will be interested in learning that Harold Irish, son of Mrs. J. W. Irish of Lincoln, Ill., grandson of Mrs. Ione Bryant, and nephew of Mrs. Frank May, of this city, was on last Friday presented with a bronze medal by the U. S. Treasury department through the Boy Scout organization of America.

The Lincoln Courier Herald says of the presentation—"The medal was given as an award for selling ten Liberty bonds of the Third Liberty Loan. No other boy was fortunate enough to secure a medal which was gained by much persevering work,

though several local Scouts worked for the award."

In the evening Mrs. Irish who was Miss Anna Bryant before her marriage entertained with a six o'clock dinner of pretty appointments honoring the fifteenth birthday of her son and one of his young friends.

A feature of the dinner was two birthday cakes with candles.

Miss Katherine Stinson, probably the greatest woman aviator in the world, recently returned from France, where she has been detailed by the United States Government to act as aerial postman from Paris to the army of occupation in Germany. Miss Stinson said she was forced to give up her plan to carry mail to the Rhine because of a heavy cold which she contracted while driving an ambulance. She said she would never get over her disappointment at being forbidden by the Government to enter the combat service of the aviation forces. Her next trip across the Atlantic, she hopes, will be made in an airplane.

The men, both white, were equipped with skeleton keys of various kinds, had goggles and automobile gloves as if their specialty might be something other than train riding.

MEN SELL WIVES PAY THE BANDITS

New York, March 18.—Men are selling their wives in Fokien, China. Selling their homes, their lands, and even their children was not enough to meet the enormous assessments made by armed bandits who pretend to be a part of the Southern army of China.

is urging his native preachers to cultivate any available land with vegetables to help out with their salaries and as an example to the people.

Teaching people how to help themselves is part of the plan of the Centenary Committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church for rebuilding the world. To do this the Centenary expects to spend out of the fund of $105,000,000 now being raised, a certain amount of money in every country of the world for missionaries, native workers and equipment.

Dr. Cole goes on to say that Siyen county is meeting the same fate from the robbers. Plundering is rife everywhere. Six Methodist homes have been sacked and burned. Men, unable to pay the assessments, are beaten. Villages everywhere are being forced to subscribe to the cause of the bandits.

100 YEARS YOUNG YESTERDAY, LOCAL MAN CELEBRATES

George W. Carle Well and Active After Passing Century Mark at Home on West Court Street.

Born in Maysville, Ky., He Moved to Fayette at Age of One Year—Has Three Honorable Discharges From Army.

Mr. George W. Carle, residing on West Court street, this city Tuesday celebrated the one-hundredth anniversary of his birth, and quite a number of friends from this and adjoining cities assembled to assist in paying due homage to the only centenarian in Fayette county.

The friends found the venerable citizen in the very best of health, thoroughly able to enjoy the event and assist the others in making it a memorable day for all concerned.

Mr. Carle has resided quietly in this city for many years, and it was not generally known that the city contained a man who was so near the century mark until it became noised about on his one hundredth anniversary.

Mr. Carle was born at Maysville, Kentucky, March 25, 1819. His father, Charles Carle brought his family to this part of Ohio when the son George was one year old.

The aged man states that his father helped build the first house in Washington on the site of the present Court House, and that there was but one "road" to the town at that time—a hog path through the forest to Hillsboro.

He served 3 years during the Civil War and has in his possession three honorable discharges from the United States Army. He served his first enlistment under Captain Ramsey in Company B, 33 Ohio. He was discharged on account of defective sight, after serving 11 months and 15 days.

Mr. Carle then succeeded in enlisting again, this time in the 7th Ohio Cavalry, but was again discharged at the end of 3 months because of an injured shoulder. After recovery, Mr. Carle enlisted for the third time, choosing the heavy artillery and served to the end of the war, taking part in the battle of Stone River and Pittsburg landing.

Mr. Carle is wonderfully well preserved in body and mind and exhibits a pleasing personality. He attributes his splendid physical condition to the out door life he has led.

The centenarian states that he has cleared 173 acres of land and that he spent several years at Ripley, Ohio, in the construction of river boats.

"Honesty toward everyone and an upright life has been my motto during my entire career," asserts Mr. Carle.

DOG SUFFERS FROM RABIES

As result of a bite inflicted by a rabid dog owned by C. W. Walker, at Good Hope, some eighteen days ago, a hound owned by C. C. Fountain of Good Hope, which had been kept muzzled and securely fastened, has developed hydrophobia.

The hound showed the first symptoms of the disease several days ago, and since that time has developed an unmistakable case of the disease.

Mr. Fountain kept the animal where it could not escape and the course of the disease was carefully watched.

It is feared many other dogs in and near Good Hope were bitten by the Walker dog.

SOLDIERS ATTENTION

There is a notice in the reception room of Beem & Beem, Chiropactors, that reads as follows:

"Any soldier in olive-drab uniform in the service of Uncle Sam is entitled to receive Chiropatric adjustments in this office Free of Charge."

The above notice was posted generally in Chiropatric offices all over the country during the war period, but Beem & Beem are glad to further extend the courtesy to the soldier lads of Washington C. H.

CHARGES NEGLECT

Representative Royal C. Johnson

South Dakota, who was a soldier in the world war, serving in all grades, from private to captain, in a statement made in Washington recently, said: "The Sixty-Sixth Congress did practically nothing of real consequence for the American soldiers, either to reward them for their fine work in putting the finishing touch to the Hun or to render them assistance when the time comes for going back to peace time pursuits." Representative Johnson served in the House of Representatives before war was declared and was discharged from the army and went back to Congress after the armistice was signed.

GREECE IS OPEN TO THE YANKEES

Coblenz, February 14.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The leave of absence area for the American army of Occupation was recently extended to include Greece. Under the present plan officers and men of the Third Army, in cases where leave is granted, may visit Paris, Belgium, England, Italy or Greece, leaves being for two weeks, except in exceptional cases.

Who Does The Buying For Your Family?

There is someone in your family who has a big responsibility.

Food to buy for the table; clothes for the children and grown-ups; new household utensils, linen, furniture, books and all the hundred and one little things for which the family income is spent.

In most families, one person does the bulk of the buying. And it is that person's job to see that the money is well spent—that you all get full value for every cent that goes out.

The success of a family depends on wise buying just as the success of a business does.

Wise buying means intelligent buying. It is necessary to have knowledge of goods and stores.

The best way to get this knowledge is by reading advertisements. They tell you what is new and good. They tell you where and when to buy to advantage.

Not only the person who does the buying but every member of the family should read advertisements. It is the duty of all the others to help the one who does the buying by pointing out advertisements of new goods and giving all the information possible as to tastes and styles and values.

Advertisements are published for your benefit. Make use of them by reading them.

SAYS HELP RUSS. BY THE LIFTING OF PRESENT BLOCKADE

Prominent Russian Tells of Work Under Way to Hold Russia Together Until Other Aid Reaches Her

London, February 27.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Lift the economic blockade from Russia is the appeal which Alexander Berkenheim of Moscow, vice-president and general manager of the All-Russian Central Union of Consumers' Societies, is making in England and which he intends to make soon in the United States. That is the only way, in Mr. Berkenheim's opinion, to cure Russia's troubles.

Mr. Berkenheim left Moscow, the headquarters of his organization, in December. He confirms reports of the famine condition prevailing in the cities of Northern Russia. The situation in Petrograd is particularly bad, he says.

Mr. Berkenheim intends to visit New York, Washington, Chicago and San Francisco. The principal object of his trip to America is to develop trade relations between the United States and Russia, and to establish offices on the eastern and western seaboard. From the eastern coast he plans to ship large consignments of American products to the Black Sea districts of Russia, and from the Pacific Coast to Siberia. Here, the organization has had only a few agents in the United States.

The All-Russian Central Union of Consumers' Societies is, Mr. Berkenheim says, the directing head of various co-operative associations. It embraces 450 unions made up of 35,000 societies with an individual membership of 12,000,000 heads of families. Counting five persons to the family, it is reckoned that the Central organization is supplying the necessities of life to some 60,000,000 people in all parts of the Empire.

"On our organization," Mr. Berkenheim told a representative of The Associated Press, "devolves the task of keeping Russia alive. We believe that eventually our work will be the means of restoring and regenerating Russia."

"In America I intend to make a study of the means of opening up to Russia the resources of your great country through trade. Our chief aim now, is to remove trade restrictions. The Black Sea blockade is still effective. No formal blockade exists with regard to Siberia, but the system of permits in force greatly hampers commerce."

PRAISE FOR RED CROSS IS COMING FROM RUSSIANS

Long Arm of the American Red Cross Has Reached Into the Heart of Siberia as Godsend to Afflicted.

Omsk, February 1.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Praise for the work of the American Red Cross is a dominant note of public expression here. The organization has opened a well-appointed hospital four versts outside the city of Omsk, with 400 beds and 250 patients, chiefly Russians, with a few French. The hospital is capable of holding one thousand beds, if necessary.

The Omsk hospital is merely one of a series of philanthropic medical institutions which have been organized in Siberia, mainly through the efforts of Dr. R. B. Teusler, of Tokio, the chairman of the Red Cross Commission to Siberia. He has been travelling about to points in the interior obtaining bases and buildings for the hospitals. Russians thus have been made to realize that the American Red Cross is here to be of genuine and effective assistance.

Red Cross work in interior Siberia has provided a hospital at Tumen, with a capacity of 500 patients and dental clinics at Cheliabinsk and Ekaterinburg. An American doctor was detailed to serve on the staff of the Czech-Slovak army and a field unit with two surgeons was maintained with the Eighth regiment of Czechs until winter stopped the most active operations. There is now being opened at Petropavlovsk an American typhus hospital for Russians, with a capacity of 400 beds. Dr. F. E. Dille, an American physician from Peking, is at Omsk and is medical director of the Western Division of the Red Cross, extending from Irkutsk to the Urals.

At Taiga, Novo-Nikolaevsk and other places, more than 2,000 persons are under Red Cross care. Milk stations are provided for school-children. When there are no men in families, monthly donations are made in needy cases. Overcoats, boots, caps and children's underclothing are distributed. Clothes have been given to 500 Polish families.

At six points in the Cral mountains there is work among colonies of 2,000 Petrograd refugee school children. Those who are in proper condition are being sent to school. The Red Cross has given large stores of supplies to Czech-Slovak and Russian military and civilian relief and is aiding in the transport of medical supplies for the Russian Red Cross.

General Gaida, in a telegraphic order has expressed his gratitude to the American Red Cross and to Dr. Teusler for care of the wounded and invalids of the Czech and Russian troops under his command, as well as for the aid given to the refugees, and assistance shown in the fighting of epidemic diseases. He also voiced his thanks for donations of warm underwear and other winter clothing to the Czech-Slovak troops.

SOVIETS AFTER SUPPLIES FROM UNITED STATES

Would Deposit Immense Sum in Gold for Much Need Supplies

New York, March 21.—As the first step toward obtaining recognition by the United States, the Russian soviet government is prepared to deposit $200,000,000 in gold with American and European banks for the purchase of supplies needed in reconstruction work, according to a formal statement issued here last night by L. C. A. Martens, American representative of the Demidoff Iron and Steel Works in Moscow, through the "bureau of representatives of the Russian Socialist Federal Soviet republic."

Asserting that he had received this week his appointment as official representative of the soviet government in the United States, Mr. Martens said he had forwarded his credentials to the state department and meanwhile had opened temporary headquarters in this city. With the credentials, he said, he had sent a report on conditions in Russia and an expression of his government's desire "to re-establish normal relations between the two countries."

Mr. Martens said that in addition to the $200,000,000 to be deposited to defray the cost of initial purchases, the soviet government was prepared to submit various propositions, which, he said, he hoped would prove acceptable to American manufacturers and exporters, looking toward establishment of credit for additional government purchases.

According to Martens, who asserted that despite "silly" reports concerning the soviet government, it had "laid firm the foundation for a well-ordered development of their society," he was "empowered to state." That his government is "sincerely anxious to have hostilities cease in Russia and to enter into agreements with the American government for the peaceable withdrawal of American troops from Russia."

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel, his efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

AUTO CLUB FOR CITY AND COUNTY NOW A REALITY

Temporary Organization Made at Enthusiastic Meeting Last Night.

Permanent Organization To Be Made At Meeting Friday Night of This Week.

An automobile club for Fayette county is no more a dream, but is now a real live organization.

A score and a half of prominent automobile owners of the city met Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. and formed an automobile club, virtually everyone present signifying his intention of becoming a charter member.

Although the representative from the State Association did not arrive, this did not prevent action on the part of the supporters of the club and the organization was put on a temporary foundation, with permanent organization assured at a meeting on Friday night.

Hon. J. M. Willis and Walter Craig were chosen temporary chairman and secretary respectively of the club.

Complete organization will be made it is expected, at a meeting called for Friday night of this week.

Several men were present who are members of other auto clubs and these men were enthusiastic in their praise of the work accomplished by such organizations.

Very few autos with the association mark on them were ever stolen, they declared.

The agitation of such an organization toward highway improvement and the regulation of traffic laws, was also an important factor in the work of these organizations, they asserted.

It was pointed out that the Club would soon boast a membership of 1000 to 1500. The club will be affiliated with the State and National Associations.

A committee of three men was appointed on organization and by-laws. A committee on nominations was also named.

The meeting was adjourned until Friday evening when the club will meet at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30.

An auto club for this county promises to be an organization of which Washington C. H. will be proud and everyone interested in automobiles or in the work accomplished by an auto association is urged to attend the meeting Friday evening.

W. C. T. U.

The local W. C. T. U. will meet Friday at 2:30 o'clock in the Federated Club rooms. County President, Mrs. Alice Taggart, will address the meeting. A large attendance is desired. Secy.

LITTLE BUTTER FOR SIBERIANS

Vladivostok, February 12. (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Butter production in Siberia has nearly stopped, according to local newspapers, owing to a government monopoly which fixed a price lower than cost. Most of the West-Siberian butter producers turned to cheese making in consequence. Peasants and cattle owners are finding it unprofitable to keep their herds and are selling them.

The monopoly on butter introduced by the Kerensky government and perpetuated by the Bolsheviks and other governments since, has resulted in complete demoralization of cattle breeding. After the monopoly became effective butter accumulated in the hands of the authorities until they were at a loss to know how to dispose of it. Great quantities were used as machine lubricant.

Today, as a result of decreased production, the price has increased in Central Siberia to 6½ rubles a pound.

"BABE" RUTH

"Babe" Ruth

A signed contract from "Stuffy" McInnis, first baseman, which was received recently at the Boston Red Sox offices, and notice from the veteran outfielder, Harry Hooper, that he will be with the team this season, reduces the Sox important holdouts to the star pitcher, "Babe" Ruth. Ruth continues to declare that he will not play unless he receives the $15,000 document he has been demanding all winter. Dave Shean and Pitcher Carl Mays are the other holdouts.

ACCIDENT CLAIMS MANY SOLDIERS

There is a noticeable increase in the number of deaths among the expeditionary forces, due to accident, since the armistice was signed, and a fair idea of why this is true may be gleaned from the announcement by one of the overseas men that in one instance 20 soldiers were killed outright because they were disobeying orders and riding on top of box cars. The train was in the act of passing through a tunnel.

Riding on top of the trains is one of the problems with which the officers are dealing, and a firm hand has been laid upon the practice, it is understood.

The Y. W. C. A. drive for membership opens tomorrow morning and continues Thursday and Friday.

"TECK" ARRIVES ON THE MONTANA

The Herald is in receipt of a card from Teck Claggen, former telegraph editor of this paper, announcing his safe arrival from France in the "good old U. S. A." on the Montana.

He sends regards to all his friends here which The Herald is glad to pass on.

It will not be long now, if the usual demobilization routine is not disturbed by unusual occurrences, until Teck and the other local men of the good old 37th—Ohio's own—which has made such a splendid record in the service, are back in the old home towns.

ENGLISH WOMEN ARE INSISTING ON FAIR PLAY

Learned to Work During War and Insist They be Retained in Necessary Work

London, March 20. (By Associated Press Correspondent)—An economic battle is being waged over the 1,500,000 unemployed women of the country who earned good wages chiefly as munitions workers during the war. Some English newspapers and commentators are asking if a sex war is one of the sinister possibilities of the future. They point out that the situation is more dangerous than when the suffragettes were wont to smash windows and terrorize the London police because the women did not then know the full measure of their power.

Since the armistice was signed it has become more and more apparent that these 1,500,000 women workers would have to return to private life so as to give opportunity of employment for returning soldiers. But they have not accepted the situation with good grace, and have answered the challenge of the economic condition by strong organizations whose avowed intention is to safeguard the position of women in industry.

The most important of these is Lady Rhonda's newly inaugurated Women's Industrial League which has opened offices in London and sent organizers into all parts of the country. Lady Rhonda's plans are viewed with suspicion and some measure of distrust by professional women labor leaders.

Dr. Marion Phillips, chief woman officer of the Labor Party, asserts that the agitation conducted by Lady Rhonda's league is calculated to lead to bitterness and strife between men and women workers.

GERMAN MIND IS STILL AT ODDS WITH THE WORLD

Views of Expert Are Fair Sample of German Attitude of Bigotry

Coblenz, February 26.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Articles in the German press and speeches and interviews with German public men since the armistice went into effect show that German point of view still is completely at variance with that of the rest of the world, asserts one of the political experts with the American Army of Occupation.

In a recent article on the question of German psychology, published in the intelligence summary of the Third Army, the political expert who is an officer of high authority, says: "The German feels that, first and foremost, his army was not only unbeaten but had all the military prestige of the war. Then he knew that there was increasing scarcity of victuals at home and, feeling that the Allies were in mortal dread of new drives by the German army and would be only too glad to compromise, proposed an armistice."

"Germany expects all the world to supply her gladly with all her needs and, as a mark of good faith and to encourage the Allies, offered to allow them to advance to the Rhine. Now the Germans affect to wonder why Germany is not completely supplied by the Allies and why the garrison having allowed to see the Rhine scenery do not withdraw."

"Of course, the more ignorant classes might be expected to take this attitude but when these ideas appear in addresses by Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, by Scheidemann and by the Crown Prince the result is more than puzzling. All the people considers, apparently, the armistice was an agreement for mutual benefit and any idea that the war was anything but a draw with the prestige all on the German side has not yet penetrated the German mind."

WRESTLING MATCH OF MUCH INTEREST

A wrestling match of unusual interest to local fans is to be staged at the former Armory on Monday night of next week, when Matty Matsuda, the champion lightweight wrestler, will meet Raymond Carpenter of Lancaster, a young man of great ability.

Although Carpenter will outweigh the champion by 10 to 12 pounds, Matty promises to pin Carpenter's shoulders to the mat once in one hour.

Hamilton and Tillman, the young men who were favorites with the fans in their former bout, will appear in the preliminaries for a decisive match for two out of three falls. This will be a live match from start to finish in view of the fact that quite a little antagonism developed between the two men in their former wrestling here.

DOCTORS UNITE FOR PROTECTION

London, March 1.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Men and women doctors in London have set about to secure what they deem to be their rights through the organization of a trade union.

The "Union" which is being formed under the direction of the Medical-political Union, is for the purpose of dealing with the government through the latter's proposed Ministry of Health. It is the purpose of the union to become affiliated with the Labor Party and the Trade Union Congress.

PHOTOGRAPHS BY HUNS ARE POPULAR

Associated Press Correspondence

Coblenz, February 24.—German photographers in Coblenz recently have been doing the largest business in their careers, their principal customers being American soldiers.

From two to five thousand Americans of units in districts beyond the Rhine and other parts of the occupied area visit Coblenz daily, the soldiers being allowed one day in the city every few weeks. Hundreds of these men have their photographs taken.

HOW ABOUT IT?

No community is or can be wholly self-supporting.

But the nearer a community can come to establishing complete co-operation between producer and consumer through its buying and selling agencies, the closer it comes to being a really self-supporting center.

The closer the ties between the producer and the consumer the more money is left at home for both and the more progressive becomes such a community.

The more business a man can do in buying and selling the better he is able to please you and the greater is the assortment and lower the price of his goods.

As far as possible all farm products should be marketed at home, direct to the home manufacturer or buyer. This insures keeping the money at home and of obtaining the most satisfactory results possible.

And home products should be bought from home manufacturers and home stores to stimulate production and to enable the dealer to offer more in the way of articles which, of a necessity, must be shipped in.

Think it over.

SUNLIGHT CREAMERIES

CASUALTY LISTS SOON TO CEASE

Washington, March 26.—(By Associated Press)—The last of the real American casualty lists in the world war now are being published and within the next few days the lists will contain practically only the names of those who have died or have been injured since the armistice was signed.

The names of the few given as having been killed in action are those of men for whom extended investigation had been necessary to establish proof of death. They are in most cases, the names of those who were injured beyond recognition when they gave their lives for their country.

Daily casualty lists will continue to be issued indefinitely, however, for as long as the Expeditionary Forces remain in Europe or there is an army of occupation in Germany there will be deaths from disease. The next of kin will continue to receive the same official notification from the war department, but the daily publication of names from now on may run farther behind the official telegrams.

In their display windows the photographers have arranged the pictures of Americans on one side and likenesses of German civilians and soldiers on the other, always with a dividing line of some kind in between.

No man should complain of being weighed on his own scales or being measured by his own yard stick.
